The excitement here yesterday morning was the Sabbath School Pionic or Convention, of the Dayton District of the M. E. A uniform system is greatly needed; and a pleasant yearly meeting of the various schools must have a good effect. Park knows how to "hx.

Justice Young, of Dayton, was here last night. He and Squire Gungar, of this place, had quite an interesting talk about the duties, etc., of Justices of the Peace; they cogretted that there was not a better understanding existing between the profession in the County, and deplored the "differences" in the style of doing business. At their instance we propose that a Convention of Justices of the Peace be held some time this summer or fall, in Day-ton, for the purpose of comparing notes, and agreeing, upon a uniform system of doing business, and make such arrangements for securing such uniformity, &c., as they may deem proper and necessary. We believe that to be a good idea, and am only surprised that the matter has not been attended too long since. Will the newspapers of the county mention this matter? We feel sure the Justices will depeties rean ices will favor it, and they will doubtless reap great benefit from the system proposed to be augurated.

We neglected to say yesterday, in our enu eration of the trades, etc., of this place, to observe that we have two excellent bands of music here, who are in full blast. We have a musical community, and it is estimated that about one third of the men can perform on some musical instrument. Our ladies generally perform well upon the piano; and equally as well upon the wash tub and ironing table. We will also observe here that the ladies are remarkably fond of flowers, and they greet the enses gratefully at every point. The Tulpe ocken ladies are noted for their good looks goodness of heart, and—shall we not say it?

—industry and tidiness of house-keeping.

Our appetite had been rendered rather fishy, because of the high hopes raised by our friend Ralfil, who promised to keep the Estina table supplied from Tulpehocken, and our friends are assured their kindness is appreciated.

We are almost tempted to offer a reward for a local item. We wandered over a good part of the city this forenoon, but could discover nothing worthy of penciling. Our company is now awaiting our appear. Our company is now awaiting our appearance with equipments for the river, where we expect to meet our Dayton friends.

> The New York correspondent of the charleston Mercury, writes that the erection of marble palaces by jewellers is one of the igns of the times. Warehouses, instead of mall shops are now needed to hold the vast ock of a first-class establishment, and one wanders, bewildered through furlengs of count sers filled with diamonds, rubbes, emeralds, opals, pearls of great price, cunning work in causeo, lava, malachite, and the softer stones and bright gold wrought into every imaginable shape to set of the visible charms of the irreal fible sex. Private jewels, to the extent of from $5,000 to $10,000, are now a very tent of from $5,000 to $10,000, are now a very common possession of New York ladies. Ter years ago there was probably not a lady in tow ho had such a store of the "little sparklers. Mr. Joseph Popper, of Prague, says a New York paper, aunounces that he has discovered the means to regulate arial navigation by a power which will satisfactorily take the place of nearly all ateum engines, being simple, efficacious and safe. With this agent gas is emencious and sate sate in the descent is to be accomplished by an ingenious arrangement of parachutes. This arial boat is, then, merely a gondola, whose movements in every direction force produced by a current of electricity Wouse Furnishing. THEODORE BARLOW,
